BROWN RECEIVES REGIONAL AWARD

Bayyari Elementary School's Jan Brown was surprised when named Northwest Arkansas Elementary School Counselor of the Year in June. She was just as surprised two months later when her peers in the Springdale School District presented her with a plaque during their first meeting of the new school year.

"They gave me a plaque in Little Rock and told me I was a candidate for State

Elementary Counselor of the Year," said Brown, who should find out by early October if she won the state award. "I was surprised to receive another plaque from the other counselors in our district."

Criteria involved in the selection included counseling in academics, personal, social and career. Brown was honored to be selected but just as honored "to receive an award from my cohorts in Springdale."
